Scott returns to Ottawa for 5th term

Bill Scott, Progressive Conservative incumbent for Victoria-Haliburton was elected to his fifth term of office last night.

Mr. Scott was declared the victor when Liberal hopeful David Logan conceded at 10 p.m.

With less than half of the 241 polls in the liberal candidate congratulated Mr. Scott on a fine campaign.

The votes stood at 10,006 for Scott, 4,574 for Logan, 2,340 for Patrick Daniel, NDP, and 54 votes for the other two parties, the Libertarians and the Marxist-Lenninist party, when the election was called.

A capacity crowd was on hand to congratulate Mr. Scott in his campaign headquarters at 50 William St. South in Lindsay.

Mr. Scott told his supporters that he still thinks Canadians are a great people and everybody should work together to get Canadians back to work.

"We must have faith in our country, my friends," he said.

"Bill Scott didn't win this election on his own, it was a team effort right down the line," Mr. Scott said in his victory speech.

"I'm pleased with the results from the new part of the riding and all parts of the riding," he continued.

He said he didn't want to go to Ottawa alone, that he wanted the people of the riding to be with him.

"I don't want to know your political philosophies, I want to know your problems," added the incumbent.

He urged constituents to bring their problems to him and he would try to rectify any situation.

While congratulating Mr. Scott, Mr. Logan said this was one of the most important elections of our time.

He said it has "brought closer together our principals", to build a solid nation of Canadians is still ahead of us, he added.

"The months ahead will determine whether Canada will be just a place in which to live or a nation. The months ahead will determine whether Canada will be an idea or a state with policies and decisions which are for the betterment of all Canadians where ever in this vast country they may live," he said.

Early in the evening Mr. Scott took the lead with winning most of the polls that were returned.

When 10 polls were returned the incumbent was leading with 431, to the Liberals 229, followed by the NDP at 131. At 19 polls PC 1,320, Liberals 645, NDP 375; 30 polls PC 2,270, Liberal 1,047, NDP 603; 50 polls PC 4,063, Liberal 1,945, NDP 1,081; 60 polls PC 5,042, Liberal 2,330, NDP 1,302; 70 polls PC 5,905, Liberal 2,747, NDP 1,529; 80 polls PC 6,831, Liberal 3,278, NDP 1,772; 90 polls PC 7,896, Liberal 3,709, NDP 1,976; 100 polls PC 8,934, Liberal 4,235, NDP 2,240; at 110 polls PC 10,006, liberal 4,574, NDP 2,340.

Only 110 polls of 241 had reported when the Liberal and NDP candidates conceded the election.

Both opponents came to the conservative headquarters to congratulate Mr. Scott on his victory.

Unfortunately complete election results were not available when we went to press.

Former Minden resident dies in river

A Toronto man, who grew up in Minden, died when his car went out of control and plunged into the Gull River along County Road 2 just south of Minden early Sunday morning.

Dead is Foster Hewitt, 27 of Jarvis St. in Toronto.

Surviving Mr. Hewitt are his mother, Joyce of Minden, sister Mrs. Joan Beattie of Richmond Hill, brothers Fredrick of Toronto, Neil of Carleton Place and Colin of Minden.

The interment was at Minden cemetery on Tuesday.

Coroner Dr. H.E. Good of Haliburton, has said no post mortem or inquest will be held.

Wins $50 gift certificate

Barbara Peel, of Haliburton was the lucky winner of a $50 gift certificate from The Village Shoppe in Haliburton, last week.

The Village Shoppe is a new clothing store located next to Newbatt's Furniture in Rose Carnahan's old house.

Mr. Hewitt was still fastened in his seat belt assembly.

The investigation was conducted by Corporal Ron Foran and Provincial Constable Ron Wood.

Shooting Range opens May 27

After a number of committee, executive and general meetings, the Haliburton County Marksmen Club is becoming a reality.

Two general meetings produced approximately eighty to one hundred potential members with quite a number of applications being received over the past several weeks.

The Council of Anson, Hindon and Minden have approved and given their consent to use the Municipal gravel pit North of the village on Bobcaygeon Road approximately two and one half miles from town.

The official opening will be held on Sunday May 27th at 2:00 p.m. beginning with a short meeting concerning the constitution and a briefing of the range procedures and safety regulations.

Following the meeting each paid up member will receive a pass key to the locked gate, which will ensure that only authorized persons will have access to the grounds.

The membership fees are $25.00 for an adult, $10.00 for a junior under eighteen and $10.00 for an associate member.

After the opening ceremonies, Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt will fire the first shot and start the beginning of the new range.

Target shooting will be the program for the day beginning with rifles, shotguns and a demonstration of handguns.

An archery demonstration will be presented also by an affiliate of the Ontario Archery Association.

All members and potential members are requested to bring their rifles and shotguns with them and join in an afternoon of fun and entertainment.

Because the range has not, at this time, been sanctioned by the Solicitor General's Office, those who are interested in and have handguns are requested to leave their guns at home until proper permits can be obtained to allow the carrying of the handguns.

The afternoon promises to be a very interesting one with several dignitaries to help in the opening of our new club facilities.

Bring a chair with you to relax and there is plenty of parking spaces. If per chance it is raining, the opening will be postponed until the following Sunday, June 3rd.

Rattler seen near Gull Lake

A Mississauga rattle snake was spotted in the Gull Lake area on Monday.

Peter Jewett, of Toronto, has a cottage on the west side of the lake, about a mile south of the University of Toronto survey camp and when he came out of the cottage he saw the snake by the door.

He said on Tuesday that it was rattling its tail and when he came back from getting a shovel to kill it with, it was gone.

A representative from the Ministry of Natural Resources in Minden said that if it was a rattler it is very, very rare for one to be in this area.

Mr. Jewett said the snake was about two feet long.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

Local Pollution Survey Scheduled:

Last week, at the Annual Meeting of the Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association, Terry Healy, of the Ministry of Environment explained the survey program that will be undertaken this summer by his staff. Cottagers Associations on Miskwabi and Big Esson Lakes requested that their lakes be surveyed this year, and in addition the Ministry decided to include Lake Kashagawigamog.

The survey team will be calling on every property owner on these lakes, both private and commercial and examining their methods of waste disposal, and checking their source of drinking water. Faulty systems will be reported to the property owners along with corrective measures to be undertaken.

This survey program was begun in the summer of 1967 and to date 32 lakes have been examined in Haliburton and Muskoka. Only about 15% of the systems checked are found entirely satisfactory and about 28% seriously substandard. The rest varied somewhere in between and in many cases required only a minor amount of work to bring them up to standards.

Our clean water is one of the biggest assets and we should be concerned with protecting its quality. We urge all those concerned to co-operate fully with the staff that is conducting the survey—they are working for our benefit, and can be very helpful in obtaining useful advice.

"Royally" Seminars Underway:

The first seminar provided by the Ministry of Industry & Tourism in our area was held at the wagon Wheel Motel last week for a small but enthusiastic group. All of those who participated were extremely pleased with the program and felt it had done a great deal for them. Anyone dealing with the public, both staff and business owners should attend one of the remaining four sessions. The high school has endorsed the program for students, but were not prepared to go so far as to mark them present for the day. Any student who intends to work in our tourist area this summer should certainly avail themselves of this opportunity.

The next seminar will be held at the Orange Hall in Haliburton on June 5th. Following that there is one at Wig-A-Mog on the 18th, Harcourt Community Hall on the 20th, and Mr. Fogg's on the 21st of June. Cost is only $4.00 per person which covers two coffee breaks and lunch. Please advise the Chamber Office in advance by calling 286-1760 of your intentions to attend as registration is limited to 35 per session.

NEW photos for OLD:

Keith Stata has advised us that he wishes to expand on his extensive "Historic Pictures Collection". Any one who has seen his collection at the Kinmount Fair would surely be impressed. He would like to borrow copies of pictures of buildings in and around our villages from days gone by in order to make copies for himself. For your trouble in loaning your picture Keith will make an additional 8" x 10" copy which he will give to any person loaning him a picture. Old post cards are welcome as well as individual photographs. Anyone having such pictures is invited to drop them off at the Chamber Office and we will see that they are looked after. We are open 7 days a week.

What's New!

Ellenor Bagg just called to let us know that she and Allan have purchased the Haliburton Lake Store at Fort Irwin. In view of the excellent reputation they have earned with the operation of their Eagle Lake Store, the folks around Haliburton Lake are certainly pleased to hear of this new undertaking. In fact, Ellenor tells us many of their neighbours have been over helping to paint and spruce up the place. Their son Rick will manage the store this summer and they will also be maintaining the Post Office as in the past.

There should be no shortage of good places to eat this year. The former Bun 'N Run that adjoins the Carnarvon Country Market at the highway 35 and 530 intersections is now the Dairy Bar branch of Mrs. Fogg's and will specialize in Soft Ice Cream, Shakes and Dairy products.

Sir Sam's Inn celebrated a re-opening this week-end under the new ownership of James Orr and will once again provide us with an elegant atmosphere in a licenced Dining Room and Lounge. Expanded resort facilities are also in the plans for the near future by the new owners.

Bonnie View Inn has taken on a new look this year. Gary & Elaine Wooten are now managing the renovated Dining Room that will feature family Dining in a relaxed atmosphere. For those who have not seen Bonnie View in recent years we can assure you that Mr. and Mrs. Tata have succeeded renovating this resort to today's standards without losing the picturesque atmosphere it was always known for.

It's a great new season opening up with many new folks to share it with us. The very best of luck to all of them.

Mystery surrounds air crash

Mystery and confusion seems to be surrounding an airplane crash that happened at Sir Sam's Inn near Eagle Lake airstrip last Saturday afternoon.

Apparently the aircraft was coming in for a landing when it suddenly lost altitude and it crashed onto the runway only about eight feet from the water's edge.

But police seem to be having some problems in getting information about the accident.

They are unable to get the make of the aircraft or the length of the airstrip confirmed.

Unofficially the aircraft is described as a 1978 Cessna with an unofficial damage estimate at $45,000.

The pilot, William Harding, 43 of Thornhill, received a minor facial laceration and a passenger Grant Rae, 41 of Haliburton, also received a facial laceration.

The names of the two other passengers were unavailable.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Mike Maher.

Many collisions in area

Damage amounted to $6,000 in an accident last Friday when two cars collided on Horseshoe Lake Rd. No. 1.

Bill Kostenko, 26 of Brampton, was northbound, failed to make a curve and hit a car, driven by Anthony Dallariva, 19 of Weston, which was stopped at the junction with highway 35.

The Kostenko car, a 1979, was estimated with $3,500 damage while $2,500 was the damage estimate for Dallariva's 1979 car.

Investigation by Brian Dunham.

A Lindsay man received minor injuries when his 1973 car rolled over the bank and ended up in Kushog Lake.

Wayne Keenan, 24, was southbound on Highway 35 at the Ox Narrows Bridge while the accident occurred early Sunday morning.

The car sustained $3,000 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Boyd Jarvis.

Thursday morning Brian Bacon, 17 of R. R. 1 Minden, lost control of a truck and it rolled over on a private road in Dysart township.

The 1976 pickup was damaged to the tune of $1,000 in the accident.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Reg Eveligh.

Two cars collided at the crest of the hill near the Hilltop store on highway 121 in the early afternoon last Wednesday.

John Walker, 60 of Bancroft, was turning into a private drive when a car, driven by Angus MacInnes, 44 of Haliburton, came over the hill and the vehicles collided.

Walker's 1974 car was estimated with $600.

MacInnes' 1972 car received $1,000 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Ron Buchanan.

Arlene Collins, 20 of Willowdale, was slightly injured when her pickup hit an embankment and rolled over along Clear Lake road, in Lutterworth Township, early Sunday morning.

The 1975 pickup was damaged to the tune of $2,000.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bob Wood.

An Oshawa man was injured and his 1971 car received $1,500 damage when it rolled over onto its side in a ditch along highway 121, just east of the Ingoldsby turn.

Andrew Blair, 18, was driving east when the accident happened.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Boyd Jarvis.

A 1970 car received 1600 damage when it went over the bank and plunged into Hall's Lake along highway 35, north of Carnarvon.

Lawrence Chase, 20 of Don Mills, was headed south when he lost control of the vehicle.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Reg Eveligh.

A Weston man fractured his left leg when his car collided with a stake truck on Drag Lake Road, Saturday morning.

The car received a damage estimate of $2,000 while the truck sustained $1,500 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Jim Solway.

KINMOUNT CALLING

By Sam and Margaret Telford

What a beautiful weekend for the holiday! Can you remember others that you have spent being cold and miserable and wet? Kinmount looked like a full blown metropolis on Saturday morning, with no parking spots available. We know this annual re-awakening is good for business and the town, but we find ourselves sometimes selfishly wishing for the winter quiet.

Did you see the banner stretched across the front of the restaurant? "Victoria County Spring Festival of the Arts - May 25th to June 3rd, 1979. The first event for Kinmount is the play "Our Town". Tickets are still available in local stores. The cast is fairly large, and they are all local people. The main characters are portrayed by Muriel Nightingale, Susan Dettman, Kevin Brown, Michelle Barkwell, John Maguire, Sandra Brown, Guy Scott, Gordon Kennedy. Others in the cast are Leslie Brown, Julie Brown, John Maguire Jr., Chris Maguire, Dan McLuney, Laurie Scott, Lori Rolfe, Jim Nightingale, Mark Brelsford, Jennifer Austin, Maxine Cross, Sam Telford, Jennifer Dettman, Christine Brelsford, Jim Hockley.

We had a look at the stage set today which has been designed by Mark Brelsford. Actually, the whole Brelsford family, plus assistant John Windrum have been involved in this and it is a terrific job. We are so lucky to have people like Mark and electrician Tom Wilson with their special skills to help us out. The Festival Stage Manager visited one of our rehearsals last week, and was very helpful. Wish we could keep him with us until it is all over. Thursday, May 24th is dress rehearsal. It will be in the afternoon, and the local school children and teachers will attend.

Wednesday, May 30th features "The Puppet Mongers Powell". They are a talented brother and sister who will do a demonstration and a short play. This is specifically for the local school children and it will be held at the Community Hall at 1:30 p.m. Mothers with pre-school children are invited to attend this free performance.

Saturday and Sunday, June 2nd and 3rd from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. is the Arts & Crafts Show and Sale at the Fairgrounds, and on Saturday there is a free movie there for the little ones at 1:30 p.m.

Don't forget to go into the Post Office to see the quilt which will be raffled off at the Craft Show. It is beautiful and it was created by Eva Peacock. Raffle tickets are available in local stores. We are indebted to the postal superintendent for this area for special permission to display the quilt.

Many of the official program books for the Festival, showing all of the county activities have been distributed in the area, mainly in the stores, and these will be given out on request.

Did you notice that we have one less house in Kinmount? The wreckers really made short work of it. It must have been eighty-five to one hundred years old, and sat out on a treacherous curve in Highway 121, which we understand is to be remodelled by the Department of Highways.

That's all for now. Good night.

Nurses form Union

Hyland Crest nurses are forming a union, according to Bob Vick.

Mr. Vick, reeve of Snowdon and chairman on the Hyland Crest committee, told county council last week that the final arrangements were being made for the union.

Seven registered nurses will be involved in this chapter of the Ontario Nursing Union.

Social planning council looking into county's recreational needs

It was moved by Catherine Denholm, seconded by Lorne Coburn that the minutes of the February meeting be accepted as circulated.

Correspondence: We received a letter from Haliburton County Council, dated March 23, 1979, granting the Social Planning Council financial assistance in the amount of $100.00 for this year. A letter of thanks to this body will follow.

Miss Brenda Couch, consultant with the provincial Ministry of Culture and Recreation addressed the assembly, stating that a high mandate of this ministry is to encourage good leadership at any level of organized recreation. Many municipalities are doing surveys to determine exactly what are the needs in their communities. Miss Couch, in response to Dr. Christiansen's comment that there is a need for some permanent recreation centre like a YM-YWCA in this county, said that she strongly believes that such costly facilities being available does not guarantee that the children or adults will participate or make satisfactory use of them. Are we using our existing facilities to the maximum potential? Family-oriented and individual types are currently replacing the highly competitive, team sports in popularity; therefore, we quite possibly do need current data which will assess the needs locally. The Social Planning Council suggested that the Municipal Councils be encouraged to take on this chore. Further examination of this topic will take place at the May meeting.

Dr. Christiansen voiced a word of caution to the sub-committee working on unification of Social Services: proceed cautiously; look very carefully at the logistics and financial components of their recommendations. Mr. Joe Fecht, on behalf of the sub-committee, reported that they have identified and interviewed all the local service providers. This committee was very pleased to receive good, positive response regarding the idea of a private agency, and will be finalizing a discussion paper which hopefully will be distributed by the end of April. After further deliberations with local providers, the sub-committee will see what can be done about establishing a private agency. They are objectively looking at a starting date of April, 1980, with potential funding from the National Health and Welfare Commission.

Mrs. Sonya Holliday-Rhodes, chairperson for the Haliburton County Anti-pollution Association, addressed the meeting, recommending that any new industry introduced in our county must be able to co-exist with our present environment. The following ratification from this Association is being forwarded to the Economic Planning Council: that there be an impartial task force established to investigate any probable incoming industry from an environmental point of view. This subject stimulated considerable interest and discussion from the general membership present.

Mrs. Denholm reported that, having attended the Economic Planning Council meeting at PineStone, at which time some presentations were made regarding new industry in Haliburton County, there was a good consciousness about our own environment and facilities. Mr. Stinson, Manager of the Haliburton Chamber of Commerce, added that representatives from various provincial ministries, e.g. Natural Resources and Tourism, will also be contributing new ideas. There will be a final meeting May 30th, to sort out all presentations.

Mrs. McCann spoke her wish that there was some service provided to the elderly, who aren't able to get out of their home, but would still like some social involvement. She reported that Hyland Crest in Minden and Extend-a-care in Haliburton feel they could provide a day-care service to these people with the aid of a volunteer group. The need for a pre-school day-care organization was also briefly mentioned. More on these topics on our next agenda.

Do we want to change our meeting from Thursday to Wednesday? Bring your preference to the next meeting which will be held in the Christian Education Building at Carnarvon United Church, Thursday, May 24, 1979, 9:30 a.m. The guest speaker will be Mr. Ross Digman, newly appointed area manager of the Lindsay and District Community and Social Services. He will be addressing us on up-to-date de-centralization plans, and how these might be implemented in our area. The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Diane Warnes.

Is $75,000 planning strategy worthless?

County council is beginning to worry that the development strategy, which cost the county $75,000 may be worthless.

The study, including the proposed development of the county, excepting Dysart et al, over the next five years, was prepared by Totten, Sims and Hubicki, of Toronto, last year.

This strategy was to take the place of an official plan but council is finding out that it is not being regarded as such.

Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Since Nesbitt, who is also the planning chairman, told the council last Wednesday that in a recent Ontario Municipal Board hearing in his municipality the chairman would not recognize the development strategy.

He said the proposed trailer park had been included in the strategy but since it was not provincial law, like an official plan would have been, the chairman would not use it for guidance and the trailer park was subsequently denied.

Mr. Nesbitt said he would like the matter cleared up because another OMB hearing regarding a subdivision in Anson, Hindon and Minden is coming up soon.

'We can't have another hearing without knowing where we stand," he told the council.

The planning committee and possibly Dysart et al officials will be meeting with the Ministry of Housing representatives on May 31 to try and get the matter ironed out.

Noseworthy leaves Glamorgan Council

Chesel Noseworthy, deputy-reeve of Glamorgan township, has resigned from municipal politics.

Mr. Noseworthy's resignation became effective May 14.

He told The Times on Thursday that he would be spending more time at his business and cited personal reasons for terminating his official position at this time.

"If you don't have the time to do it, there's no sense in it," he added.

Mr. Noseworthy spent a two-year term as a councillor before being elected to deputy-reeve six months ago.

REPORT FROM QUEEN'S PARK

By John Eakins, M.P.P.

Please Dad

Fifteen little boys in Minden won't have a very good time this weekend if somebody doesn't help them.

The boys, all between the ages of 8 and 11, belong to the Minden cubs. And this weekend they were to take part in the Victoria County Cuboree, a camp out held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Balsam Lake Park.

But unfortunately for one reason or another the usual leaders can't make it this weekend and no one else has volunteered to take the boys.

These children have parents, but too often they forget that a lot of hard work goes into planning events for their children.

Much too often the scouting movement becomes a babysitting service for some parents.

It might be a nice gesture towards the boys and the volunteers who give many hours of their time, if just this once someone stood up and offered to help.

It doesn't seem like too much to ask, after all this is the Year of the Child!

Although this weekend may seem like the most important thing to these little guys, there is another matter waiting around the corner that will be a much worse disaster if something isn't done.

The Minden scouting movement may close down completely this fall for lack of adult volunteers. It has happened all at once that most of the volunteers are being called away for business reasons or to attend school or other commitments that could not be avoided.

It will be quite a shame if these boys have to find out that no one cares enough about them to give a little of their time.

The boys need YOUR help to grow and enjoy life.

Maybe you might even grow a little and enjoy life a little bit more if you could spend some time with the boys.

What about you Dad? Have you helped out lately?

The provincial government has decided to ban temporarily the use of two controversial herbicides (2,4,5-T and 2,4,5-TP) which contain minute quantities of dioxin, even though a government appointed committee and the federal departments of Agriculture and Health and Welfare have recommended that use of the chemicals be allowed. In an interview following his announcement of the two year ban, the Minister of the Environment stated that the herbicides are being banned due to public anxiety over dioxin - the most toxic of man-made chemicals, traces of which have recently been found in two Lake Ontario fish. Both the suspect herbicides are known to be contaminated by small amounts of dioxin, and U.S. researchers have stated that a mere 1/1,200th of a drop of pure dioxin would prove fatal. To replace these two herbicides (which are incidentally used to control vegetation on Hydro rights-of-way and along highways) the government will allow the use of 2,4-D, other phenoxy herbicides and Picoram. These are considered less toxic, though less effective, and contain no detectable levels of dioxin, but can control vegetation.

A team of three physicists and an engineer have released a report stating that excessive radiation from X-ray machines is causing some 20 leukemia cases a year in Ontario. The University of Toronto's Dr. Kenneth Taylor and his colleagues, who have been working on this problem, awarded $300,000 over the next three years for a program to minimize radiation levels. Based on a survey of 20 hospitals during 1977 and 1978, some 5% of hospital X-ray machines emit exceptionally high doses of radiation because they are not adjusted properly. This figure is a statistical estimate based on preliminary findings. In addition, the president of the 2,700 member Ontario Society for Radiological Technicians has stated that in this province anyone is permitted to run an X-ray machine without specialized training or a licence. She also stated that Ontario was warned at least ten years ago that some hospital patients were being exposed to dangerously high radiation levels when having X-rays.

Provincial medicare continues to be a widespread topic of discussion. The Federal Minister of Health has stated that Ontario's contribution to health costs has "dwindled down to close to nothing" - a statement denied by the Provincial Treasurer. Meanwhile, the Provincial Minister of Health has said that Ontario residents don't have to worry about a reduced standard of health care due to the federal threat to cut health care payments to the Province. He considers the threat an election move, while his colleague, the Provincial Treasurer, says such a cut in funding is unthinkable. The United Auto Workers union has said it may ask for a private health plan in contract negotiations if doctors continue to drop out of OHIP.

Each year at this time "Police Week" is celebrated all over Canada. This special week to promote police/public co-operation is traditionally the week which includes the 15th of May, running from Sunday to Saturday. This practice was established in 1969, largely through the efforts of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police. There are opening ceremonies, special exhibits (for the most part in plazas) and the public are welcome to tour police stations. It's a wonderful opportunity to pay tribute to our police forces, and to become more knowledgeable about their work and their problems.

Mainstream Canada

By W. Roger Worth

When glib-tongued heavy-weight Knowlton Nash of The National informs Canadians that a poll conducted for CBC television has placed the Conservatives ahead of the Liberals, he's believed. Two nights later, Nash unblushingly refers to a Gallup poll that gives the Liberals a five point edge in the election sweepstakes.

To the public, it might appear that someone is terribly wrong in these seemingly contradictory assessments. Not so, say the experts. There is no real difference between the results. Both polls are correct.

"Canadians don't understand the significance of the sophisticated polls that now take place," intones one pollster. "Everything is computerized and we take great pains to get the broadest possible input. The public simply hasn't accepted the fact that there is a margin of error built into the system."

That nifty explanation may

Who Really Wants Polls?

be quite legitimate. But by publicizing such results the media can be accused of blatantly misleading Canadian voters.

Worse, the "sophisticated" poll results may end up affecting the outcome of elections, pushing Canadians to support the party that appears to be winning.

For this reason, British Columbia has outlawed polls during election campaigns, forcing voters to decide for themselves which party to support, without an indication of what their neighbours think.

The burgeoning number of newspapers, television networks and private organizations conducting polls believe the ban unjustly restricts freedom of the press. Many are concerned that legislation similar to that in British Columbia will be introduced at the federal level.

To many laymen, though, media treatment of poll results simply increases the credibility of something that, in at least some cases, verges on the absurd.

Consider the privately operated Gallup poll, the most widely used in the country.

In an April election poll, Gallup interviewed only 1,014 Canadians. In this case, the views of each polled voter represented a mind-boggling 14,000 people.

Effectively, the public is asked to believe that five electors polled in Prince Edward Island (population, 110,000) provided a fair indication of the party supported by most Islanders.

Extended across the country, this is the sort of thing Canada's normally hard-nosed media is more and more flogging as up-front news, giving the material an authenticity it may not deserve.

What's clear is that voters are influenced by polls, perhaps to such a degree that even an incorrect poll result becomes a self-fulfilling prophecy.

Market features fresh quality meats

Don Blakey cuts quality meat daily.

Carnarvon Country Market opened its doors last Thursday, featuring fresh meats.

The market, formerly the farmer's market at the intersection of the Vankoughnet Road and highway 35, will have fresh meats cut daily and also fresh vegetables.

The new owners, Don and Elaine Blakey, have been involved in the meat business in one way or another for over 30 years.

Mr. Blakey who was formerly a sales representative for Schneider meats, learned the trade from Elaine's father, Russell Rawlins who was a butcher in Omamee for many years. Also, Mrs. Blakey used to help her father in his meat business, so both are well qualified to provide the area with top quality meats.

The market will be open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and Saturday. On Friday it will be open until 10 p.m. and Sunday's hours will be 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Your dog could be a deer killer

Editor's Note—The following feature on dog-deer problems in Ontario mentions incidents in the areas around Ottawa, Lanark County, Kemptville, Cambridge, Muskoka and Parry Sound.

In the winter of 1977, 24 deer were killed by pet dogs near the City of Cambridge. It could happen again this winter, and in other parts of Ontario as well. Even your dog could be a deer killer, given the chance.

Dr. Murray Smith, deer program-coordinator with the Ministry of Natural Resources Wildlife Branch says it's a perennial problem that can't be solved unless more dog owners co-operate.

"Often owners won't face up to the fact that most deer-killing dogs are pets," Dr. Smith said. "To make owners believe this takes a lot of convincing on the ministry's part."

This convincing means Ontario's conservation officers annually spend hundreds of hours talking to schoolchildren, service clubs, local area councils, individual dog owners and the local media.

In areas where deer herds are under heavy dog predation, the officers go door-to-door to caution pet owners.

In addition, conservation officers respond to scores of telephone complaints—often in the middle of the night. They spend long hours in the bitter cold patrolling by snowshoe, snowmobile, cruiser, on foot, and when attacks are frequent, by helicopter.

Every kill discovered by ministry personnel or reported to the ministry by the public is investigated. The officers frequently locate problem dogs and lay charges against their owner but usually not before a deer, or several, have been killed. If convicted, the owner faces a maximum fine of $1,000.

Not all dogs found in deer yards belong to farmers or even farmer urbanites who have begun to settle in the rural lands of Ontario.

Often slight alterations in rural population can have drastic results. Several years ago, a deer herd that traditionally spent each winter on the Carp ridge west of Ottawa was all but wiped out by roaming pets from a new subdivision located nearby.

That herd was saved from extinction by increased ministry surveillance, a local information program, warnings, conversations, several charges and the co-operation of subdivision residents.

Biologists say the herd has successfully re-built itself. They counted 35 deer continued on page 15

CSA names explosive kettles

The Canadian Standards Association (CSA) is warning owners of electric kettles to be on the lookout for a possible hazard.

During the past several months thirteen kettles have reportedly exploded in Canada. Production of the kettles involved was discontinued in September 1977.

CSA is urging the public to check the base of their kettle for serial numbers which will reveal whether or not their kettle may be hazardous.

The bases of the failing kettles bear the numbers 10, 11, 14 or 16 together with either of the following:

(1) CSA number LR 37933 with a red four digit number between 6100 and 7275.

(2) CSA number LR 26791 with no red four digit number.

The kettles were manufactured by ETM (1976) Ltd., 857 Fenmar Drive, Weston, Ontario M1L 1C8.

CSA is warning people who own these kettles to stop using them.

Pot Luck Supper

by Jeanne Sears

The Thursday Card Gang had their Pot Luck Supper at the Parish Hall at 6 on Wed., May 16th. After the buffet meal, Gladys Wruth gave her report of expenses and after these were paid a donation of $340 was made to St. Paul's Anglican Church.

Prizes were presented for lone hands to Della Griffin, and perfect attendance to Joyce Hewitt and Harry MacMinn.

Gladys also thanked all who had made the year so successful either by donations, food, helping set up, or just by coming. Then Anne Dawson, on behalf of this group, thanked Gladys and presented her with two deck chairs. Gladys thanked us graciously and then asked for help and Jeanne Sears and Lilian Davidson offered this for once a month.

We will start the Thursday Mini Card Games again on Sept. 26th at 1:30 sharp. Any newcomers liking to play cards or wishing to make new friends, as well as the "Old Gang", are welcome to come.

To finish the evening many stayed for a social time at their favourite game of cards.

Things are really starting to take shape for the opening of the Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum on July 1.

Last Wednesday the old pioneer museum was moved to the present site on the Bayshore Acres Road in Glebe's Centennial Park, near Haliburton Village.

Jerry Dawson, a representative of the museum committee, told The Times on Thursday that a lot of inside work has to be completed and landscaping must be done before the proposed opening date.

The old museum will be used as a period home depicting the ways of yesterday.

Money available for students to start businesses

Funds are still available from the Ontario Government for students who wish to establish their own businesses this summer, according to Lori Mark of the Ontario Ministry of Colleges and Universities.

According to Miss Mark, it's not too late to apply for a $1000 interest-free loan through the government's Student Venture Capital program.

"The concept has proved a positive way for students to beat the summer job crunch and, at the same time, to learn the ropes of setting up and operating a business", she said.

With the help of the Royal Bank of Canada and participating Chambers of Commerce, the program has helped put some 408 students into their own businesses since 1974. Business projects have ranged from house painting and garden care to chimney sweeping and fashion design.

The Student Venture Capital Program was developed as a unique solution to the summer job crunch. Through the program, students are encouraged to create their own jobs by developing and running business enterprises on their own or in partnership with other students.

Students submit their applications to the nearest local participating Chamber of Commerce which screens applications, suggests possible improvements, and recommends for government approval those with the fundamental ingredients for success.

Once a proposal is accepted the student must agree to follow certain standard business procedures, make regular reports and repay the loan by October 31, 1979.

The Royal bank provides financial advice and interest-free bridge loans for students eager to launch their business before government funds are available. A financial liaison officer from the bank, along with the Ministry's Student Venture Capital program manager, visits projects across Ontario to provide students with whatever assistance and guidance is required.

Student Venture Capital is one of 111 components of the Ontario government's $19 million Experience '79 program administered by the Ontario Youth Secretariat.

To participate in Student Venture Capital '79, applications may be obtained at your local Chamber of Commerce or by calling Miss Mark at (416) 965-6315; or Miss Janice Nicholls at (416) 865-5043; or by writing to: Program Manager, Student Venture Capital, Ministry of Colleges and Universities, 6th Floor, Mowat Block, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario. M7A 1B9

Lutterworth's bid for change apportionment denied by clerks

The Haliburton County Treasurers' Board of Arbitration has turned down Lutterworth Township's bid to have its share of the 1979 education apportionment decreased.

But that's no surprise.

The board is made up of clerks from every municipality in the county and if they think the complaint is worthwhile they would adjust the township's share by reapportionment. If the apportionment was lowered for Lutterworth, other municipalities would subsequently have to pay more to make up the difference.

According to Major Glynn Lewis, deputy-reeve of Lutterworth, the township is more concerned with the way in which the apportionment is figured out, rather than the increase in levy the township received this year.

Since 1970 the apportionment has been influenced by a factor, fixed by the Provincial Government in 1970, and which has remained frozen since that time.

"The county's apportionment for education costs needs revision," the Major said in an interview on Monday.

He pointed out that there was an 11.7 percent increase over last year's share of the levy borne by Lutterworth. The assessment in Lutterworth has increased 3.4% over last year due to development growth in the township.

He said the township is not denying the fact it received a big boost in income last year as a result of the development.

"I think I'm speaking for the whole council when I say that we'd like to see market value assessment implemented in the county," he said.

Under this system, the market value of a piece of property in 1975 would be used as a basis for assessment which in turn would alter the apportionment in most areas of the county, he explained.

But the stumbling block is the tremendous tax shift that market value assessment would create.

The residential landowner will probably get the biggest blow because this land is usually under-assessed while commercial property is, more often than not, over-assessed, said Major Lewis.

It would, however, be political suicide for the provincial government to implement market value because of the resulting tax increases.

The system would allow for more realistic taxes because it would be based on the up-to-date value of property.

There would also be a drop in provincial grant with the implementation of market value assessment. A dramatic drop of an estimated 50 percent which would have to be assumed by the County.

The township is currently having the Lindsay assessment office do a study to find out if equalization within property classes might be a better step, for the time being.

Equalization in each property class would make taxes a bit more realistic, but would not, equalize the differences between residential and commercial, for example.

"Equalization within property classes would be a better start to help the public get used to the blow; before a government would bring on market value," said Major Lewis.

In an effort to better the apportionment in some way, Clerk Wayne Hughes tabled the following motion at the arbitration board but could not find a seconder so it fell by the wayside.

On behalf of the Corporation of the Township of Lutterworth and its Muni-pal Council, I would table the following Motion:-

Moved by Wayne D. Hughes, seconded by —

Be it resolved that the Sharing Ratio of the individual Municipalities in the County of Haliburton, under the 1979 Apportionment of the sums required for public and secondary school purposes, does not reflect an equitable distribution of the proportional sums to be borne by the municipalities in relation to their realistic assessment base.

The freezing of Equalization Factors by the Provincial Government in 1970 created inequities in assessment within the County of Haliburton - thereby resulting in this Municipality bearing an undue burden.

Accordingly, the Township of Lutterworth requests a reapportionment of the sums required from each Municipality, or part thereof, for public and secondary school purposes in the year 1979.

I would request your support of this Motion.

YOUR GARDEN

Knowing Beans

Beans are not only good for you when you eat them; they're good for your garden when you grow them. Beans absorb useful nitrogen from the atmosphere and add it to the soil.

Green or yellow snap beans can be grown in any good soil. Prepare the soil with a 5-10-5 fertilizer at the rate of three to four pounds per 100 square feet.

Plant in spring when the soil is warm and dry. Space your rows approximately three feet apart with furrows one inch deep. Plant a seed every two to three inches. Never cover the seeds with more than an inch of soil.

According to a new gardening authority, the Reader's Digest Illustrated Guide to Gardening, cultivating bush beans can be a snap. When they're six inches tall, sprinkle a 5-10-5 fertilizer in a band on either side. Keep the soil well moistened but never water from above. Mulch to conserve moisture and keep down weeds.

Pick the beans while they still snap when you bend them and before the seeds swell visibly.

"The provincial government has chosen to ignore conservative and utility efficiency, the two elements which in the long run can lower the cost of electric power to the people of Ontario. Last week, I tabled in the House a bill which would give the government power to impose policy direction on Ontario Hydro. Government members on the other side of the House blocked a vote on this legislation.

Hydro's proposed increase no surprise... Eakins

JOHN EAKINS MPP (Victoria-Haliburton) today said, "Ontario Hydro's recent announcement that it would seek rate increases for 1980 comes as no surprise in light of the incredible excessive building program to which it is now committed for the future."

He said he agrees with Julian Reed, Liberal M.P.P. and Energy Critic, that these price increases will occur on a regular basis until 1985 at least, as the accumulated debt increases.

In a release Mr. Reed said, "Why does the government continue to make inaccurate load forecasts and support a building program for generating capacity which will go largely unused? Why should Ontario residents be expected to subsidize the export of power to the U.S.?"

"Serious and costly equipment flaws will undoubtedly delay completion of the building program, adding to the cost. Anyone who says we are lucky to have excess power is playing into

MNR firecrews practise for fire-fighting

In preparation for forest fires they might be fighting this year, both the Minden and Bracebridge firecrews practised Helicopter slinging, at Hugh Taylor's farm (two miles north of Minden on the Bobcaygeon Road) last Wednesday.

"When you're at a fire, equipment must be moved from one location to another so, instead of putting it inside the helicopter we use a sling attached to the bottom of the craft," explained Ron MacKenzie, co-ordinator of the Ministry of Natural Resources project.

The exercise involves two men at a time; one gives the helicopter pilot hand signals to direct him over the load to be lifted then the other man runs under the helicopter, hovering about three or four feet in the air, and hooks up the sling.

A strong net is used to carry the necessary fire-fighting equipment. This net is then attached to a thick leather lanard which in turn is attached to the helicopter.

A fuel drum is also used in the exercise and it has its own special harness that is used for the slinging operation.

Terry Bannerman, of Ontario Helicopters, was flying a Hughes 500D which is turbo powered.

The craft will fly at a speed of 180 miles an hour.

This is an annual event because the fire crews get rusty over the winter and it's also a good time to show the men new techniques and procedures.

Before the operation began the pilot gave the men a tour around the craft and explained certain things to be careful of.

One of the most important facts that the men were to remember was not to walk under the tail as the exhaust will blow a man right back into the tail prop.

"I saw three guys almost get it one day", says Bob Musclow of the Minden District, "they walked right under the tail, but somehow they managed to get out of there."

Mr. Musclow, who once spent 44 days straight fighting the fires up north, said that many of these men will be called up to fight fires if this year is like 1973 to 1976.

He said these were the worst years for fires in a long time.

If the men are called to the fires this exercise and others carried out by the Ministry will be invaluable.

The 30 men at the practice, three crews from each district, each had a chance to attach the sling and direct the pilot

Most of Village enjoys The Shoppe

A large crowd came to the opening of The Village Shoppe last Thursday.

"Everybody is most welcome to drop in and browse around."

That's what Julie Hartin, of the new Village Shoppe in Haliburton, said last Thursday, but it seemed like a good many people had already taken her up on her invitation.

It was the clothing store's opening day and many people were looking at the new fashions in stock.

"We've had a lot of people in looking around, today", said Mrs. Hartin.

She and her husband have opened up the store in Rose Carnahan's old house, next to Newbatt's Furniture and Appliances.

Larry Hartin has worked with Simpson Sears in Toronto for the past ten years and Julie was kept busy as a school secretary.

Along with running the business Mr. Hartin is also working for Curry Motors, in Haliburton.

The store features many fashions for women along with a large supply of quality dress shirts for men and of course blue jeans.

The Village Shoppe will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day except Friday when it will remain open until 9 p.m.

town on June 7th and if you get your tickets early they are cheaper; these are on sale at the Municipal Office and at Stedmans.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson of Minden Lake had their son Paul of Thornbury visit them over the weekend.

The John Lattimore family were opening Kilcoo Camp over the weekend.

Over the weekend, guests with the Milton Sears, included the Reg Leamans of River Drive Park, who were camping nearby, and Muriel Ewing and boys and Sandra Sears all of Toronto, the Paul Warburtons and the Glen Sears of West Hill.

We hear that the Figure Skaters Flea Market on Saturday was a great success, and it should have been with the huge crowd in town.

Coming up are the last card party of the season at the Orange Lodge Hall beside the United Church, this is Monday May 28th at 8 and they usually play euchre and cribbage there.

Day's End
Often when day is done
And in my bed I lay,
I ask myself a question,
Did I do my best today?
Did I wear a cheery smile
As I went on my way-
Or a frown that hurt
A friend along the way?
Did I help a dear one
That had gone astray-
Or was I much too busy
Going my own selfish way?
Tomorrow I will remember

To be helpful and gay-
Then I can with honesty say,
I did my best today!

-Aline Uehelhor-

We note that there is a shop open beside La Nore Beauty Salon also that the "Plant Man" is back selling his flower and vegetable plants just past the Wrightmans.

Lots of traffic over the weekend and swimming time will soon be here; anyway take care. Cheerio until next time.

I cured my high blood pressure.

Baloney! If you have high blood pressure, you'll probably have it for the rest of your life because it can't be cured. But it doesn't have to be a problem—you can control it and bring it down. See a doctor and take your medication every day.

Using nipple waterers in hog buildings

Nipple waterers are becoming more popular every day in confinement hog buildings and there are several reasons for this.

Nipple waterers are so simple. There are fewer working parts and less maintenance involved than in float or bowl-type waterers. However, initial cost is another benefit and there is less water wasted with the nipple waterer.

The nipples also supply fresh water at all times. Bowl waterers tend to collect manure. This is not very appetizing and also presents some real health hazards.

Originally, nipple waterers were used in the growing and finishing stages but now are used with good success for sows in crates and little pigs in their creepers. However, if you have some pens equipped with cup or bowl-type waterers and you move pigs from these pens to pens with nipple waterers, make sure the pigs know how they work. Just run the nipple waterer in front of them so they'll know where it is and how it works.

One critical time may be when you're bringing in feeder pigs. Usually, you want to get medicated water into them as soon as possible, so make sure they know how to use that nipple.

Give special consideration to using nipple waterers in farrowing crates. Separate nipples for the sow and pigs are recommended as the little pigs need a special teat-type waterer.

Also, don't skimp on the number of waterers because less water is available at one time. The recommendation is not more than 20 pigs per nipple waterer.

In conclusion, most nipple waterers have a height adjustment and the recommendation here is to have the nipple level with the pig's back. Although this does require changing as the pigs grow, most of them have a very quick and easy adjustment.

These are just a few recommendations that will help you get the most out of this new, economical and sanitary way of making sure your pigs of all ages receive the required amount of fresh, clean water at all times.

Agricrew - something new Agricrew is a new program in this area, sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, and is designed to benefit both youth and farm employers.

An 'Agricrew' consists of five capable workers. These crews are available to work on farms for up to 5 days, during the length of the program. The program begins June 25, and runs till August 17, 1979.

The cost of the program to the farm employer is $90 for the services of an Agricrew per day. At the conclusion of the program, the farmer will be re-imbursed $15 per day for the total number of work agreements made throughout the program.

The crews provide their own transportation and lunch. They will work one full day. The crews are trained to perform manual labour such as cleaning fence rows, tidying tool sheds, repairing fences, cleaning barns, picking stones, painting and helping with harvest.

Employers are to be engaged in an agriculturally oriented operation and may request the services of one crew only. A work agreement must be signed indicating method of payment, work to be done, and alternate work plans for inclement weather.

An Agricrew could also be hired to help agricultural societies prepare their grounds for community fairs.

Interested farmers in Victoria & Haliburton Counties should contact the Lindsay Agricultural Office several weeks before Agricrew services will be needed. Applications for work agreements will be accepted throughout the summer on a first-come, first-served basis.

Waterway opens for the 1979-80 season

The opening of the Waterway on schedule was touch and go this week, as scattered showers and threatening clouds brought even more water into the already swollen spring flows.

The strong currents from the high river flows make boat manoeuvring near certain locks a bit more tricky. Narrow river sections can produce strong currents for the unsuspecting boater. The pull of the river, in fact, can partially submerge navigation buoys that mark the navigable route along the Waterway.

However, dryer weather before the holiday weekend, and a desire to get the Waterway going for the start of the summer season, won out. All sections of the Waterway were checked by staff, and, with a note of caution to boaters, the Waterway will be open for business as planned.

Water Control

Over the past winter snow water equivalent reached nearly the same maximum amount as the year before, peaking at 168 mm (6.6 ins.) on the basin upstream of Lakefield. During the spring runoff this produced a peak flow down the Otonabee River of 3600 cubic meters per second (12,700 cubic feet per second).

Reservoir Lakes also filled well to reach a maximum of 102.6% on May 7th. At this writing (May 18th) the reservoir storage is holding at 101% and some surplus water is still in the Kawarthas and on Lake Simcoe-Couchiching.

The severe flooding just north of us, such as that at Field, Ontario, this spring did not happen along the Trent and Severn Watersheds. The major feature of the run-off here has been its long duration. Rainfalls have been light to normal, yet relatively high run-off from the watershed has continued a long time.

Outflow from the Kawarthas is being reduced from 172 cubic metres per second to 127 (considered the maximum for safe navigation). Dry weather would result in this being reduced continuously until the minimum of 17 cubic metres per second is reached before reservoir water would be required.

Pest control experts looking for loopers north of Kawarthas

Ministry of Natural Resources and federal insect control staff are monitoring surrounding forests and cleaning up the damage caused by an outbreak of hemlock looper in the Kawartha Lakes area.

Last year, the caterpillars -- greyish-green insects about three centimetres long with white-flecked bodies -- severely defoliated six square kilometres of hemlock trees in Anstruther, Burleigh, Harvey and Cavendish Townships.

According to Dr. Rod Carrow, ministry pest control supervisor, experts are uncertain what to expect from the hemlock looper this summer. Outbreaks have been so infrequent, background information on which to base predictions is sketchy, he said. However, past outbreaks in other provinces have collapsed very rapidly due to natural causes.

The insect is now in the egg stage in the moss and material on the forest floor. The caterpillars will begin to hatch in June and by July the effects of their feeding may become noticeable.

Although hemlock is their preferred food, the loopers will feed on other conifers such as balsam fir and spruce, and sometimes on deciduous, or broad-leaved trees.

If defoliation is severe, the insect can kill a tree in just one season. Several hundred hemlocks were killed in the north Kawarthas area last summer, said Dr. Carrow.

He said the insects are not easy to spot, unless found feeding on hemlock. They are just one of a dozen species of caterpillars that crawl with an arching movement, pulling up their rear body and then pushing their front end ahead.

The ministry plans to clean up unsightly defoliated Crown forests by logging the dead and dying trees he said, but has no plans to spray.

However, he added, ministry staff is ready to give advice and technical guidance to private landowners interested in detecting the insect and controlling it. The ministry does not control insects on private land.

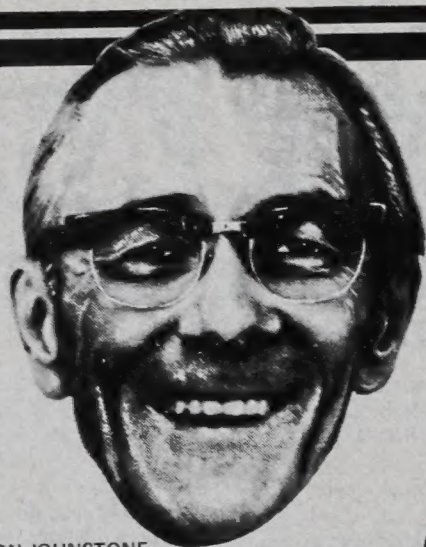

For information on insecticides, method of application, commercial sprayers available, help in coordinating community control programs and other guidance, private landowners may contact ministry district staff in Bancroft (332-3940, area code 613) Minden (286-1521, area code 705), or pest control staff at Maple (832-2761, area code 416).
